FUND MANAGER SPEAKS

Equity market

·After a strong start to the month on US Federal reserves decision to ease liquidity by USD 600 billion, the markets corrected over concerns of sovereign debt default in the European Union countries of Ireland, Portugal and Spain. Muddying of the domestic political scene due to investigations into Telecom spectrum allocation, some banking officials in the public sector banks accused of bribery and political developments in states like Karnataka and Andhra Pradesh also hurt sentiment, as investors worried about impact of events on policy direction. For the month the BSE Sensex and NSE 50 indices closed down 2.6% each at 19,521 and 5,863 respectively. This correction in the market has been quite synchronous with global markets correcting post the announcement of QE 2 by the US Fed. The dollar index also bounced from the lows made during October. The news flow on the need for a bailout in Ireland also spooked markets and increased risk aversion. This resulted in large caps outperforming mid caps which in turn outperformed small caps during this period. Auto, consumer durables, FMCG, health care, and IT indices out performed the Sensex, while banks, capital goods, metals oil & gas, power, PSU and realty indices lagged. The month saw FII's pumping in USD 4.1 Billion (inflow of USD 6.4 Billion in October '10), while domestic mutual funds were net sellers of USD 19 million (net sellers of USD 1.3 Billion in October '10).

·In economic data flow, the Index of Industrial Production (IIP) reported for the month of September '10 showed an unusually low growth of 4.4%YoY (6.9%YoY in August '10 as per revised estimates). The volatility in the IIP data can be smoothened by taking the April to September '10 year on year growth. For this period IIP grew a strong 10.2%YoY (compared to 6.3% same period last year). On a use basis manufacturing grew by 11%YoY, mining by 8.7%YoY and electricity by 3.8%YoY. The manufacturing Purchasing Managers Index for November '10 which is a lead indicator of the economy rose to 58.4 from 57.2 the previous month due to acceleration in output growth supported by larger order books. The spike in production backlog despite an increase in output indicates that capacity utilization is high. Input price indicators rose markedly but output prices grew faster. Taken together, these numbers reflect strong growth momentum in manufacturing and also point to future inflationary risks.

·GDP data for quarter ending September '10 reported by the CSO, showed a growth of 8.9%YoY (same as the last quarter). This is the highest growth rate reported in the last 11 quarters and came higher than market expectations. Growth was led by services up 9.8%YoY (9.3% previous quarter) which was due to trade and hotels growth of 12.1%YoY and financial services growth of 8.3%YoY.Industry growth remained strong at 8.9%YoY though it moderated from 11.3%YoY in the previous quarter. As expected, given the strong rainfall this year, agriculture grew by 4.4%YoY compared to 2.5%YoY in the previous quarter reflecting the impact of the summer crop. Consumption now forms 71.7% of the GDP (private consumption is 60.6% and public consumption is 11.2%). GDP growth in the quarter ended September was driven largely by consumption which grew by 9.3%YoY.

·In the period from April '10 to October '10, corporate taxes grew by 21%YoY while personal taxes grew by 11%YoY leading to a total direct tax growth of 17%YoY. Indirect Taxes including excise and customs showed a growth of 51%YoY. Total tax collection increased by 26%YoY for the same period. If one were to adjust for the increase in indirect taxes due to partial withdrawal of fiscal stimulus, taxes have grown by about 20%YoY inline with nominal GDP growth. Such strong collections could result in the government meeting its fiscal deficit target of 5.5% of GDP, even in face of the supplementary demands for subsidy payments and social project allocations.

·On the policy front, on 2nd of November '10 at its second quarter review of monetary policy, the RBI hiked its lending (repo) and borrowing(reverse repo) rate by 25 basis points to 6.25% and 5.25% respectively, while indicating a temporary pause to tightening interest rates in response to inflationary pressures. The cash reserve ratio was left unchanged at 6%. RBI has stated it will continue to keep a close watch on inflation, which could accentuate due to quantitative easing related commodity price increase and rising domestic capacity utilization levels. In response to tight liquidity conditions RBI reduced SLR (the amount banks have to keep in government securities as a percentage of their Net Demand and Time Liabilities) to 23% from 25%, reflecting the willingness of the central bank to respond to dynamic fund requirements of the Indian economy. Further action if liquidity conditions remain tighter than usual cannot be ruled out.

·RBI's comments and economic data like the PMI continually point to high capacity utilization in Indian Industry, indicating that a new capex cycle is likely to get underway. If credit growth were to pick up tightness of funds could hurt but the RBI could use tools at its hand like CRR and SLR to manage the situation. Moreover RBI holds almost USD20 billion of government funds parked with it, due to a lag between raising of funds and government expenditure. The rapid consumption growth in India as reflected in GDP data will put additional pressure on industry to expand capacity. We therefore think the risk to capex story is on the upside.

In December markets will look to the European Central Bank response to the sovereign debt issues in Ireland, Portugal and Spain. Given that no one wants a crisis, these issues should get resolved even if they lead to short term volatility in markets. Flow of economic data especially retail data related to the US economy to judge the strength of the economic recovery in the world's largest economy will be of interest. Developments in China in relation to central bank policy and inflation will continue to drive sentiment towards emerging markets. Also, domestic events like RBI's policy review and advance tax declaration as a gauge of corporate performance before result season gets underway will be keenly watched by investors.

Debt market

G-sec market remained subdued and the undertone was bearish with low volumes amid tight liquidity conditions. The 10 year bench mark yield traded broadly in the range of 8.00-8.10%, though it briefly touched a low of 7.97% on the back of OMO auction in the benchmark security and weak IIP numbers. The market reaction to the rate hike (25 basis points hike in Repo and Reverse Repo) by RBI in its 2nd November '10 policy review, was muted as the same was in line with expectation. Towards the end, the bench mark yield closed at 8.07% compared to 8.11% in previous month.

The system continued to reel under severe tightness in liquidity as demand for funds remained strong. The crunch in the systemic liquidity is largely attributed to equity sales of PSU companies which have attracted huge investor interest. Also, withdrawal of funds in the festive season and lack of government spending has further aggravated the situation. To ease the liquidity situation, RBI eased the SLR norms, by reducing the SLR by 2% till 28th January 2011. Liquidity injection through LAF window during the month averaged at Rs. 97,000 crore as against Rs. 60,000 crore in the previous month. Call rates ended the month at 6.67% while CBLO rates ended at 6.24%.

An extended tightness in liquidity exerted severe pressure on money market rates, taking the yields upward by 50-100 basis points. While the 3 month CD rates moved up by over 95 basis points to 8.65% compared to 7.70% in the previous month , the one year yield moved up by 50 basis points to 8.95%. The activity in the corporate bonds remained subdued amid tight liquidity. While the AAA 10 year bond closed the month at 8.83% at a spread of 60 bps, 5 year AAA bond closed the month at 8.65%, at a spread of 60 bps.

WPI inflation for the month of October eased a tad to 8.58% as against 8.62% in Sep'10. Inflation of manufacturing goods inched up to 4.75% as against 4.59% in the previous month. On the other hand food inflation eased to 14.3% compared to 15.71% in September. Inflation for the month of August'10 has been revised upwards to 8.82% from earlier estimate of 8.50%. Despite several rate hikes by RBI and favourable monsoons this year, WPI inflation has remained sticky at elevated levels. Recent uptrend in international commodity prices is also seen exerting upward pressure on domestic inflation.

The Index of Industrial Production for the month of September 2010 dipped to 4.4% (YoY), lower than the revised 6.9% for the month of August. Mining, Manufacturing and Electricity sectors grew at 5.2%, 4.5% and 1.7% respectively. As per User based classification sectoral growth rates are 3.5% in Basic goods, -4.2% in Capital goods, 10.3% in Intermediate goods and 5.2% in Consumer goods. The IIP for the month of August was revised upwards from 5.6% to 6.9%.

CSO estimated the GDP growth at factor cost at constant prices for Q2 FY 2010-11 at 8.9%. The best performing sectors in Q2 were 'trade, hotels, transport and communication which registered a growth rate of 12.1% and manufacturing , which grew at 9.8%. Agriculture marked a positive growth of 4.4%, industries grew at 8.9% while the services sector grew at 9.8%. Q1 GDP data was revised upwards to 8.9% from 8.8% release earlier.

Going forward, the market is expected to remain range bound due to tight liquidity conditions. However the sentiment is likely to turn positive on any likely signs of liquidity situation easing and possible softer inflation number for the month of November, which will give credence to the market's hope that the spate of rate hikes by RBI are finally coming to any end.

Fund manager comment :

The interest rates, both short term as well as long term, are at high levels due to tight liquidity conditions and spate of rate hikes by RBI. However, given the likely trajectory of inflation, which is expected to trend lower going forward and the fact that the government borrowings are nearing completion, we expect interest rates to come down in the medium term. The economy continues to perform well, as evidenced by the 8.9% growth for the second Quarter of FY11 which is better than market expectation of 8.3%. This augurs well for equity market. Thus, in a scenario of good economic growth and stable/falling interest rates, hybrid funds are expected to do well.

Liquidity has generally remained tight throughout the month. This has resulted in higher short term money market rates not seen in the past. These elevated levels offer good investment opportunity to the investors. We are looking to invest at the current levels and also to add on up ticks.

Fund manager comment :

Liquidity has generally remained tight throughout the month resulting in higher short term money market rates. This tight liquidity situation is expected to remain for some time in view of advance tax payments, investment cycle demand and credit off take and strong pipeline of IPOs expected to hit the market in next few months. To ease the liquidity situation, RBI has temporarily eased the SLR norms, by reducing the SLR by 2% till 28th January 2011. The extended tightness in the liquidity situation has distorted the short term interest rate curve and offers very attractive investment opportunity in the short end. We have positioned our funds accordingly, to profit from the prevailing high rates, as major portion of our funds are getting re-priced at the current high levels.

Past performance may or may not be sustained in future. After payment of dividend the NAV will fall to the extent of dividend payout and statutory levy, if any. (Unit face value - ₹ 10/-).

Notes and Data in the Fact Sheet

- The Std. Dev., Sharpe Ratio, Portfolio Beta & R-squared are based on one month return calculated using last 3 years data.
- Price/Earning Ratio, Price/Book Value Ratio, are based on the historical earnings and accounting numbers, and have been computed only for the invested portion of the portfolio.
- The standard deviation is used to measure the volatility of returns.
- Sharpe Ratio is the measure of the risk-adjusted performance. It is calculated by subtracting the risk-free rate from the average rate of return for a portfolio and dividing the result by the standard deviation of the portfolio returns.
- Beta is the measure of the portfolio's volatility to its respective benchmark.
- R-squared is a measurement of how closely a portfolio's performance correlates with the performance of benchmark index.
